Mowing is the first step of great lawn care. A lawn should be mowed to particular length depending upon its variety. Also lawn care Dallas experts suggest to mow based upon the output of the lawn, taking into consideration the rain level and other irrigation methods and fertilizing efforts. It is important to only mow a particular amount at one time, not allowing the grass to become overgrown or too short. Keeping up on a productive mowing schedule will keep the grass looking freshly pruned and maintained at all times. Irrigation goes hand and hand with mowing and the need for both are dependant upon the other. It is best to water the grass an inch of water each week to give them a great root system.
